

Family Camp - Wombeyan Caves, 20 – 21 March 2004

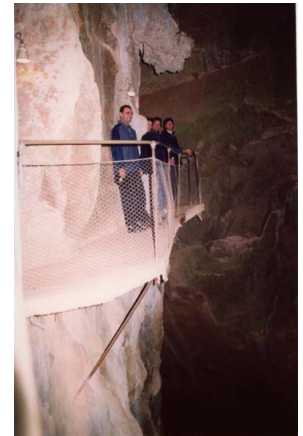

Dear Parents,

This year we are planning to have the SWAG family camp at Wombeyan Caves. The caves are located in a beautiful valley west of Mittagong. We went there last year and had a great time. Because we are going earlier in the year, there should be a great display of autumn colour.

Since it is a family camp, fathers, mothers and sisters can come. However if you are unable to attend, then your boys are welcome to come by themselves, with a permission slip.

There are good facilities including a stainless steel kitchen, a common room with a fireplace, hot showers, a sports field and level ground for camping. For those "camping challenged" amongst us, there are even Self Contained Cabins, an On-Site Van and Dormitory style accommodation.

We have negotiated a group rate for a guided tour through one cave and a self-guided tour through another. We are also organizing a number of other activities during the two days.
